This book reflects the philosophies found in the messages and teachings of the ancient Masters. They were researched in the Bible, the Nag Hammadi, the Dead Sea Scrolls and Tao Te Ching, amongst other great works. All these texts seem to show us how we may have divided ourselves into a false sense of duality and a dual world with great limitations. The messengers of old taught us about the ramifications of choice and what they may generate for us. If they create inner and outer disagreement, they may also create inner peace. It is all in how we live it after the choices have been made. We define the latter as experience. After taking the journey of seeing what the ancients sought, Dr. Steven Hairfield has combined their wisdom and philosophies into a path of life for a modern society. It follows the simplicity of such wisdom so that we can all comprehend how important we are in the achievement of love, peace, compassion, and reverence throughout our world.
